

1929 Kelly Directory

AYTON is a village and parish, comprising the town ships of Great Ayton, Little Ayton with Tunstall, Nunthorpe and Easby, in the Richmond division of the Riding, west division of Langbaugh liberty, petty sessional division of Langbaugh West, Stokesley union, county court district of Stokesley and Guisborough, rural deanery of Stokesley, archdeaconry of Cleveland and diocese of York. Great Ayton is pleasantly seated about a mile south of the conical mountain of Roseberry Topping, and consists principally of one broad street about a mile long, lighted with gas by a company, and intersected by a small rivulet crossed by a stone bridge of two arches and two of wood. Great Ayton station is three-quarters of a mile east from the village on the Middlesbrough and Battersby branch of the London and North Eastern railway, and is 3 miles north-east from Stokesley. The old church of All Saints, a low and ancient structure, was repaired in 1790 and renovated in 1915, and is now in daily use. Christ Church, erected in 1876 at a cost of 15,000, is of stone in the Early English style, and consists of chancel, nave, aisles, north porch, a narthex porch at the west end and a tower with spire containing a peal of 8 tubular bells, with chimes: there are memorial windows to the Marwood family, to the late Dr. and Mrs. Loy, and to Mrs. Henry Curry; also to Dr. Charles Stuart M.B. and Jessie Stuart, dedicated March, 1924: the church affords 450 sittings. The register dates from the year 1666. The war memorial, erected by public subscription amounting to £300, is on the right of the main entrance to the church: "In proud and loving memory of the men of Ayton who gave their lives for honour and liberty, 1914-1919. Faithful unto death." The living is a vicarage, with Easby _ annexed, joint net yearly value £260, with residence, in the gift of Sir William Francis Marwood K.C.B. and the Archbishop of York alternately,, and held since 1921 by the Rev. William Lawson Smith M.A. of Queen's College, Oxford, who is also curate in charge of Newton in Cleveland. The tithes of Great Ayton amount to £685, and are impropriated. There is a Congregational chapel, erected in 1813, with 200 sittings; also Wesleyan and Primitive Methodist chapels, and the Society of Friends have a meeting-house at High Green. A cemetery of 3 acres, with superintendent's lodge, was formed in 1882 at a cost of £1,800, being extended 11/8, acres in 1925. Here are ironstone mines, a water flour mill and three quarries. In this village the great navigator, Captain Cook, born at Marton-in-Cleveland, 27 Oct. 1728, was first taught to read and write, and the churchyard contains a tombstone to his parents, who were inhabitants of the village; at Easby, near Stokesley, on the summit of a hill, is a monument to his memory. High Green is an open space at the extremity of the village of Ayton. Here are four almshouses, erected in 1859, by Thomas Richardson esq. for the benefit of poor members of the Society of Friends. The trustees of the Procter family are lords of the manor. The principal landowners are Sir Arthur John Dorman bart. K.B.E., J.P.; Sir William Francis Marwood K.C.B., J.P. ;H. C. A. Jackson esq. ; James John Emerson esq. J.P.; J. B. Hodgkin esq.; Alfred Edward Kitching esq. D.L., J.P.; Henry Kitching esq. J.P. and Monkhouse Graham esq. The soil is loam; subsoil, clay. The area of Great Ayton township is 3,590 acres; the population of the township in 1921 was 2,708.

LANGBAURGH is a hamlet, s quarter of a mile north, which gives name to a large liberty or wapentake.

LITTLE AYTON with TUNSTALL forms a township in this parish. The tithe amounts to £201, and is impropriated. The trustees of the late Mrs. Procter, who are lords of the manor, Sir Arthur John Dorman bart. K.B.E., J.P. and Alfred Edward Kitching esq. D.L., J.P. are the chief landowners. The area is 1,378 acres; the population in 1921 was 144. Letters through Great Ayton

EASBY, near Stokesley, is a township and village, in Ayton parish, pleasantly situated in a well-wooded part of the county, 1 mile north-east from Ingleby station on the North Yorkshire and Cleveland branch of the London and North Eastern railway, and is 4 miles east from Stokesley. Easby Hall, the seat of George Hedley esq. J.P. lord of the manor and principal landowner, is a handsome mansion of stone, standing at the foot of a lofty hill, the summit of which is crowned by a monument erected to the great navigator, Captain Cook, who was born at Marton in Cleveland, in this neighbourhood, Oct. 27, 1728, educated at Ayton, and massacred at Owhyhu, Sandwich Islands, Feb. 14, 1779: the monument was erected in 1827 by subscriptions raised in Whitby, and in 1895 was restored by the readers of the "North Eastern Daily Gazette," and railings to protect it were erected by J. J. Emerson esq. The private chapel, rebuilt in 1881 by the late James Emerson esq. at a cost of £2,500, is a building of stone in the Gothic style, consisting of chancel, nave and a western tower, with spire, containing one bell: the entrance is through the base of the tower: outside the chapel, at the east end, is a mausoleum, erected as a burial place for the Emerson family, and including a canopied recess with a cross in memory of Ann Dorothy, wife. of James Emerson esq. of Easby, d. May, 1880: the window; of the nave and chancel are filled with stained glass as memorials to Eleazer Biggins esq. d. 1855, and his wife, d. 1865; James Emerson esq. and to other members of the Emerson family: the chapel and mausoleum are now the property of James John Emerson esq. J.P.: there are sittings for 70 persons. The registers since 1880 are kept at Ayton, and the earlier registers at Stokesley, to which parish Easby formerly belonged, ' There is a Wesleyan chapel here. The soil is loam, and the subsoil clay. The chief crops are wheat, barley and oats. The area is 1,211 acres ; the population in 1921 was 130.
